Tasting Notes:

The bouquet is really ripe, quite intense with distinct jamminess and concentration; the palate continues this feeling of concentration and mulled red fruits - quite exotic in fact and showing richness, fruit sweetness and a touch of smoky spice. The tannins are gentle yet gripping toward the finish. One important point to mention is the acidity. Such is the ripeness levels in 2020 that the acidity doesn't seem apparent in the mouth, yet at 3.9 is higher than similar vintages like 2018, where the acidity was more marked in the mouth at 3.5.

It has generous fruit, succulent tannins, perfect freshness. Rounded, deep, long. Caressing but not rich, scented but not OTT. "
