Besides Grahams being considered one of the most iconic, classic estates, it is also at the fore front of innovation, and a firm believer in biodiversity. The Grahams 2017 is opulent, fresh and layered, with ultra-fine tannins, black fruit jam, tobacco and rose.

Tasting Notes:

Deep purple in colour and with a viscosity that signals a huge body and concentration. Bold aromas of damson, blackberry and bergamot leap out with delicate scents of blueberry's and fresh apricots lingering above. The palate full bodied with ultra-fine tannins and a fine bead of acidity that that are tightly woven to create a mouthfeel with great tension and power. The mid-palate is opulent and thickly layered with black fruits, blueberry jam, tobacco and rose with great length and concentration.
