This is a Gran Reserva Rioja at its very best, drinking beautifully but with a propensity to age in the cellar for many years. Only the third time that Rioja Vega have released their Anadas Míticas (mythical vintage), after the memorable 2005 and 2008 vintage releases, this spectacular wine encapsulates the magical combination of the special personality of the Rioja grape varieties – Tempranillo, Graciano, and Mazuelo – with the unmistakable character of the most special of the Rioja Vega vineyards, and a mythical vintage in the Rioja region.

Tasting Notes:

Bright, deep cherry red in colour, the bouquet is elegant, portraying a genuine expression of Tempranillo varietal character. Ripe black fruit with slightly toasted, balsamic notes of great complexity, firm, round tannins, with a well-balanced solid backbone. The mouthfeel is opulent, rich, ripe and brimming with concentrated fruit and subtle hints of spice. The finish is long, persistent with a great finesse.
