A wonder, complex wine, beautifully floral with notes of chalk and minerals.

Tasting Notes:

A wonder, complex wine, beautifully floral with notes of chalk and minerals. A salty tang gives tension to the wine and the finish is long and lingering.

Producer Overview	Sébastien Brunet is a quiet and unassuming man. He took over the family business 2006, after the untimely passing of his father, Michel. The pair had worked together for six harvests following Sébastien's graduation from the lycée viticole in Amboise, where he had studied under the figure-head of the nouvelle génération vouvrillon, Vincent Carême. Michel had inherited some three hectares of vines from his father in 1974 and had quietly built up the domaine to 15 hectares by the time of his death. Some of these holdings are actually rented rather than owned, coming from Michel's brother, Jean, who is now in retirement. Read more online
